The Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act of 1974 (FERPA), as amended, is a Federal law that protects the privacy of student education records. FERPA requires that a student provide written consent for a disclosure of personally identifiable information from education records unless the circumstances meet one of the exceptions to the “prior written consent” rule that is specified in the law and it’s implementing regulations. Under those exceptions, as implemented by the College, the College may, at its sole discretion, disclose information from a student’s education records without the student’s written consent to Parents (the term “Parents” includes a natural parent, a guardian, or an individual acting as a parent in the absence of a parent or guardian) of a dependent student (as defined in section 152 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986). The College is not obligated to nor will it disclose any financial information about one parent to the other parent. A copy of the Parent’s most recent Federal tax return must be attached to and submitted with this verification/request form.
