

Work Study Program scholarships

COS Foundation also funds a Foundation Work Study position in support of the Foundation Office and the Foundation's retail business, "The Eagle's Nest." Students may work up to 20 hours per week.

How students know about scholarships

Applications are available January 1 through March 15 at the Weed Campus Institutional Advancement Office, the Weed Campus Financial Aid Office, the Yreka Campus, every high school in the district, and online at <http://www.siskiyous.edu/publicrelations>. All applications must be submitted to the COS Weed Campus Financial Aid Office by March 15.

Scholarship monitoring

Scholarships provide funding for Fall and Spring semesters. The Financial Aid Office verifies that the students have met the scholarship criteria before funds are distributed for the following academic semester.

Environment, Technology, and Adventures for Learning

Your scholarship contribution provides a gift of knowledge to a deserving College of the Siskiyou student. Scholarships reward student achievement, encourage student leadership and accomplishment, and provide needed financial assistance.

Scholarships are established to honor or remember family, friends or organizations. Some scholarships are created specifically for helping to train professionals in specific fields of study.

You can:

- Make an annual scholarship contribution; or,
- Create or donate to a scholarship endowment which provides scholarship funding in perpetuity (see details at right)

General Scholarship Fund

These scholarships are provided to Siskiyou County students. They are funded by unrestricted charitable contributions and scholarship fund raising activities.

Annual scholarships

A donor may name a general scholarship with a minimum donation of $1,000 or more, established as a one-time memorial scholarship or as annually renewable.

Endowed scholarships

Scholarships may be named to memorialize or honor family, friends or organizations. Endowed scholarships are established as perpetual scholarships. An endowment fund is administered according to the following provisions:

- When the principal of the endowment reaches the specified amount (minimum $10,000), the endowment earns interest for one year. After earning interest for one year, the scholarship is activated and awarded to a student the following spring. A $10,000 endowment produces a $500 scholarship. Prior to activation of the scholarship, all annual interest and earnings from the investment of the fund will be added to the principal to reach the minimum amount.
- If for any reason the endowment fund does not reach the agreed minimum goal within a five-year period, the Foundation transfers the funds to the COS general scholarship fund.
- Donors may elect to personally pay for the annual scholarship fund disbursement prior to the activation of the endowed fund.
