Register Now for Fall 2020 Technical Theater Classes!

Weed / COS - For the Fall 2020 Semester, Stagecraft (THEA 1600) and Stage Lighting (THEA 2600) will be taught concurrently and focusing on the design and execution of the COS Theatre Program's "All-Zoom" fall production of Shakespeare's "Love Labors Lost." Both classes are required for the Associate of Arts and Associate of Arts Transfer in Theatre Arts degree and will be offered in a Hybrid format using both Zoom and "Face to Face" instruction.

During the first two weeks of the semester, the class will meet solely on Zoom with lectures, virtual tours, and demonstrations after which the classes will plan to begin to meet Face-to-Face for the hands-on work of course projects and the execution of the sets and lights for the departmental production.

All Theater majors and other interested students are encouraged to consider registering for one of these classes; not only are they required for the degrees, but they will be taking on the challenges of our day and preparing students for this new world in the Theater Arts!

For questions and more information, contact Neil Carpentier-Alting, COS Theatre Arts instructor, by emailing carpentier-alting@siskiyous.edu. For more information about the upcoming fall production visit our website at <http://www.siskiyous.edu/theatre/>.
